

Tekdata Interconnections Ltd Preparation for Brexit

We are actively preparing for the changes associated with the United Kingdom preparing to leave the European Union on 29 March, 2019.

Our business and logistics departments are working together to monitor the ongoing situation, identifying all possible scenarios, necessary actions and execution strategies.

We are focusing on:

- Managing the change in the nature of our supplies into the EU.
- Identifying suitable carrier services for these export transactions.
- Identifying ways to minimise the impact of the change in the nature of the transactions for our customers.
- Working with carriers to minimise impacts on our delivery times.

Planning for 29 March, 2019

The political uncertainty continues within the UK parliament. It is still not clear if the UK will leave the EU on 29 March, 2019, or if there will be a transitional period when we will be able to operate as we do now.

Please be assured that we are working on finding the least disruptive and most cost effective solutions for our suppliers and business partners, as well as our customers receiving goods from our distribution centres both in and outside of the UK.

Please stay in touch

As the situation develops we will continue to review our position and update you with detailed information on any changes. Should you have any questions or concerns we would like to hear from you.
